The Company draws investors' attention to the fact that the statutory auditors expressed reservations in their audit report on the 2025 separate and consolidated financial statements. Consequently, they were unable to certify them. The main uncertainties relate to:

- the ability to continue as a going concern, particularly in light of the US subsidiaries' cash requirements and the support provided by Egide SA,
- the carrying amount of the Group's property, plant and equipment compared with projected future cash flows,
- the absence of a formalized intra-group agreement,
- the valuation method used for inventories at the US entities.
